

Amanda Roberts brings over two decades of experience in charter school education to her role as Principal of Parrish Charter Academy, including more than ten years in school administration. She holds a Bachelor of Science in Elementary Education from the University of Tampa and a Master's degree in Educational Leadership from Argosy University.

Before joining PCA, Amanda served as the Principal of a highly effective charter school for seven years, where she also previously held the role of Director of Business Operations for four years. Her unique blend of instructional insight and operational expertise has made a lasting impact on the schools and communities she has led.

Amanda is deeply committed to academic excellence, cultivating a positive school culture, and implementing sustainable systems. Her leadership is rooted in a student-centered approach and a passion for innovation. She brings with her a wealth of experience in curriculum development, exceptional student education (ESE), project-based and experiential learning, and fostering strong community partnerships.

Beyond her professional achievements, Amanda finds her greatest joy in her family. She and her husband are proud parents of two young sons, ages one and five, who bring constant inspiration and energy into their lives.

Amanda Roberts is honored to join the PCA family and looks forward to working alongside students, staff, and families to continue building a vibrant and successful school community.
